JOHN BURK TO HAVE MONUMENT

Petersburg Daughters of American Revolution Will Erect It.

BRILLIANT YOUNG IRISHMAN

Was Killed in Duel Before His History Was Completed—His Literary Aids Also Killed.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PETERSBURG, VA., December 8.—John Burk was the subject of discussion by the Frances Bland Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at their meeting to-day. The chapter determined several weeks ago to erect an appropriate memorial to this distinguished Virginia historian. He once lived in Petersburg for some time, and is buried near Mt. Airy, a suburb of this city. John Burk was a brilliant young Irishman, who was killed in 1808 in a duel under Pleet's Hill, opposite Petersburg, by a Frenchman named Caurobert, before finishing his history of Virginia, which was completed by John Bur Glardin and Shelton Jones, both of whom were subsequently shot in duels.

Burk was an ardent Jeffersonian Democrat, and in his writings made references to France, which incensed Caurobert, his subsequent slayer. The local chapter of the D. A. R. will erect a granite monument to his memory, the site of which has not been exactly determined, but will probably be in Blandford Cemetery, close to the old church.

Burk's son, John Daly Burk, was adopted by Governor Robertson, of Louisiana, who was a native of Petersburg. John Daly Burk became a judge of a circuit court in Louisiana.

The peanut and tobacco markets are both very active with unusually large receipts of peanuts, immense quantities of which have been coming in for about ten days.

Tobacco sales at the warehouses to-day were the largest of the season with good prices for all grades. Quite a large amount of tobacco is coming in now, and receipts are expected to be very heavy during the coming week as the weather has been especially favorable.
